

ART THERAPY

In July and September of this year, Clare Maddicott and John Clementson kindly visited South Africa to help children in River Sands School situated in a highly deprived area.

These children had never used art materials before and had never been taught to draw and paint. After a week under their supervision, the children not only produced professional quality artwork but also grew in confidence and stature.

Trade plus Aid would like to thank Clare and John for donating their time to this art therapy project.
